Ocean County Business Association Installs New President

Elects New Board of Trustees for 2009-2011

(Toms River, June 11, 2009) Lisa McComsey of Flying Turtle Marketing was installed as president of the Ocean County Business Association last week. Serving with her are first vice president Chuck Laing, Chuck Laing Construction Consultant, LLC; second vice president, Jim Everett, Toms River Locksmith; treasurer Glenn VanPell, Hutchins, Farrell, Meyer & Allison, P.A.; and secretary Pete Ferro, Ameritel Communications.

In addition, Phil Brilliant of Brilliant Lewis Environmental, Harry Levin of Levin Cyphers Law Firm, Paul Losseff of Holiday Opticians Holiday Plaza Hearing Aid Center, and Gerald Rodelli of Pressto Graphics were elected to the organization's board of trustees, joining current board member Linda O'Donnell of Flying Turtle Marketing. McComsey also appointed Lisa Cohan Aronow of Women's Wellness to the board.

Founded in 1980, the OCBA is a category-exclusive organization, which assembles business owners and corporate decision makers in Ocean County. The group meets twice a month for lunch in Toms River, where individuals network, exchange leads and referrals, and hear craft talks on members' businesses. The group also sponsors a traveling speakers' bureau and disseminates a business magazine to people in the community.

Anyone interested in becoming a member is invited to call 866-606-OCBA (6222) for meeting times and information, or visit the Web site at www.OceanCountyBusinessAssociation.com.
